

ENC 3453 Writing in the Health Professions

(this class confers Composition (C) and WR 6,000 credit)

SECTION: 21461

CLASS MEETING DAYS/TIMES: MWF 6

INSTRUCTOR: MATT JONES EMAIL: MATTHEWJONES1@UFL.EDU OFFICE HOURS:

Medical professionals have a special obligation to communicate without ambiguity, either in the written or spoken word; they depend on their communication skills to interact productively with other medical experts, their colleagues, clients and their families, and the public at large. This course will provide students with the opportunity to participate in a range of activities focusing on researching, processing, and sharing medical information with others. Given our current evidence-based medical culture, students will learn to do research using medical databases and other research tools, as well as discover how best to organize and present their findings to other medical professionals.

Since the healthcare professional must often act as intermediary between the specialized world of scientific research and the more pragmatic world of the general public, we will also examine consumer-oriented information and discuss strategies for more effective communication across consumer audiences.

This course is predicated on the idea that the ability to write and speak clearly are learned skills, not innate talents, which means that better communication can be learned by practice. Students will experiment with a range of communication strategies in class: lectures will be followed by focused written and oral activities that allow students to put theory and strategies into practice. We will read and dissect examples of good writing in order to learn from them, in addition to examining several types of medical writing. Students will also participate in a variety of speaking assignments in class, ranging from impromptu to prepared presentations.

Student Learning Outcomes

Content

- Identify features of academic, trade, and consumer-oriented publication
- Define the components of evidence-based medicine
- Describe how the three main genres of academic publication (research report, review, case study) contribute to the evidence-based medicine literature

Critical Thinking

- Evaluate research for scientific validity and clinical utility
- Appraise consumer-oriented health information for different audiences
- Analyze the academic literature for project-specific information

Communication

- Create effective health science messages for various audiences
- Write science prose to the standards expected of publication
- Create and manage personal documents for career advancement

Required Texts & Technologies

- There are no required texts for this class. Required readings will be provided directly in units.
 - Instructors may choose to use Perusall for class readings.
- Per CLAS policy, using Canvas is required in this class.
- The UWP adheres to the UF Student Computing Requirements.

- If you're in a noisy or distracting environment, we strongly recommend headphones with a microphone for synchronous classes.
- All students should have access to a web cam of some kind.
- If offered, synchronous online classes will require that you access Zoom using your UF Gatorlink account.

Some portions of this course may be recorded. The instructor will announce when a recording is taking place. Students who keep a camera on and display a profile image are consenting to have these recorded as part of the session. Likewise, students who participate orally are consenting to have their voices recorded. If a student does not consent to being recorded, then the student should turn off the camera and microphone. The chat feature may be used for class activities. Chat content may be recorded but will only be shared with consent. As in all courses, unauthorized recording and unauthorized sharing of recorded materials is prohibited. Students should inform instructors of accessibility or technology assistance before the course begins.

Assignments

To achieve the goals of helping students to think and communicate like discipline practitioners, this class employs project-based learning. Each project culminates in at least one major writing assignment requiring discipline-specific original content. Within projects, we employ the "LEAP" model: Learn, Explore, Analyze/Activate, Perform/Publish.

- Learn – readings, course lectures, and other learning materials that explain the genre and purpose of the project
- Explore – low stakes activities that help students identify and describe elements of the project
- Analyze/Activate – higher stakes activities in which students analyze, appraise, and critique authentic works
- Perform/Publish – content assignments for which students produce work relevant to their field

EBM Literacy Part 1: The Synthesis Series (125 pts)

We begin with the most challenging aspect of writing in the health professions for most students: professional scientific writing. We begin with a series of readings, analyses, and writing tasks designed to familiarize you with the types of articles you'll encounter in the primary literature and practice reading like a medical practitioner. This assignment is the foundation for nearly all other assignments in class!

- Bullet Analyses – 3 @25 pts each (500 words each)
- Synthesis Paper – 50 pts (500 words)

EBM Literacy Part 2: The Review Paper (300 pts)

In the second half of the EBM Literacy Project, you will choose a research focus for a Review Paper. The review process has 2 parts. First, you will prepare a project-specific annotated bibliography with at least 10 scholarly sources. Second, you will write a 5-7 page "state of the art" review paper. This project entails library research, and this will be your opportunity to become familiar with the search strategies and journals in your field.

- Annotated Bibliography – 100 pts (1000 words)
- Review Paper – 200 pts (1500 words)

Professional Development Project (150 pts)

In this Project, we will address writing essential career documents: application essays, résumés, and cover letters. First, you will learn about writing application essays (also called personal statements) and draft an essay to serve as a model for when you apply to graduate school. Second, you will find an internship or organization you'd like to volunteer with and craft a resume and cover letter. This will give you a foundation for internship, externship, and job applications when the time comes.

- Resume – 50 pts (150 words)
- Cover Letter – 50 pts (300 words)
- Personal Statement – 50 pts (200 – 500 words depending on field)

The Patient and Public Project (300 pts)

The third project addresses research and writing as it impacts patients/clients. There are two possible project possibilities (instructors will choose).

Option One: The Public Health Campaign – Students will work in small teams to investigate what a local "patient population" (in this case, probably fellow college students!) knows about some health topic. You'll write up the results of your research in the classic "brief" research report and prepare a research poster to visually represent your results. Finally, each team will create educational patient literature of one of 2 types: a poster appropriate to a clinical setting or a patient brochure. Depending on the semester, teams may also get the opportunity to present posters and brochures at a multi-class poster presentation event at the end of the semester.

- Proposal – 50 pts (500 words)
- Survey – 50 pts (200 words)
- Brief Research Report – 100 pts (1200 words)
- Poster Presentation – 100 pts (200 words)

Option Two: Transforming for the Trade and Consumer Literature – Students will work individually to transform their review papers into a trade publication following the style of a web-based trade publication (likely) associated with a professional organization. In addition, students will create two consumer-oriented health education pieces, one for a novice audience and one more a more expert audience, suitable for electronic publication. Depending on the semester, students may also get the opportunity to present their transformed work at a multi-class poster presentation event at the end of the semester.

- Trade Publication – 100 pts (750 words)
- Consumer Education – 200 pts (1200 words)

Instructor Choice Activities and Exercises (100 pts)

Each instructor has the freedom to create quizzes and activities to support student learning.

Grading Scale

The University Writing Program uses the UF recommended grading scale.

A	100 %	to 94.0%
A-	< 94.0 %	to 90.0%
B+	< 90.0 %	to 87.0%
B	< 87.0 %	to 84.0%
B-	< 84.0 %	to 80.0%
C+	< 80.0 %	to 77.0%
C	< 77.0 %	to 74.0%
C-	< 74.0 %	to 70.0%
D+	< 70.0 %	to 67.0%
D	< 67.0 %	to 64.0%
D-	< 64.0 %	to 60.0%
F	< 60.0 %	to 0.0%

General Education Credit

- University Writing Requirement: The University Writing Requirement (WR) ensures students both maintain their fluency in writing and use writing as a tool to facilitate learning. Course grades now have two components. To receive University Writing Requirement (WR) credit (E6), a student must earn a course grade of C or higher and assignments must meet minimum word requirements totaling at least 6000 words. Thus, to earn WR-E6 credit, students must complete all the major writing assignments and meet minimum word counts.
- Composition Credit: Composition courses provide instruction in the methods and conventions of standard written English (i.e. grammar, punctuation, usage) and the techniques that produce effective texts. Composition courses are writing intensive, require multiple drafts submitted to the instructor for feedback prior to final submission, and fulfill 6,000 of the university’s 24,000-word writing requirement. Course content must include multiple forms of effective writing, different writing styles, approaches and formats, and methods to adapt writing to different audiences, purposes and contexts. Students are expected learn to organize complex arguments in writing using thesis statements, claims and evidence, and to analyze writing for errors in logic.

General Education Rubric

The instructor will evaluate and provide feedback on the student's written assignments with respect to content, organization and coherence, argument and support, style, clarity, grammar, punctuation, and mechanics. Conferring credit for the University Writing Requirement, this course requires that papers conform to the following assessment rubric. More specific rubrics and guidelines applicable to individual assignments will be delivered during the course of the semester.

	SATISFACTORY (Y)	UNSATISFACTORY (N)
CONTENT	Papers exhibit at least some evidence of ideas that respond to the topic with complexity, critically evaluating and synthesizing sources, and provide at least an adequate discussion with basic understanding of sources.	Papers either include a central idea(s) that is unclear or off- topic or provide only minimal or inadequate discussion of ideas. Papers may also lack sufficient or appropriate sources.
ORGANIZATION AND COHERENCE	Documents and paragraphs exhibit at least some identifiable structure for topics, including a clear thesis statement but may require readers to work to follow progression of ideas.	Documents and paragraphs lack clearly identifiable organization, may lack any coherent sense of logic in associating and organizing ideas, and may also lack transitions and coherence to guide the reader.
ARGUMENT AND SUPPORT	Documents use persuasive and confident presentation of ideas, strongly supported with evidence. At the weak end of the Satisfactory range, documents may provide only generalized discussion of ideas or may provide adequate discussion but rely on weak support for arguments.	Documents make only weak generalizations, providing little or no support, as in summaries or narratives that fail to provide critical analysis.

STYLE	Documents use a writing style with word choice appropriate to the context, genre, and discipline. Sentences should display complexity and logical sentence structure. At a minimum, documents will display a less precise use of vocabulary and an uneven use of sentence structure or a writing style that occasionally veers away from word choice or tone appropriate to the context, genre, and discipline.	Documents rely on word usage that is inappropriate for the context, genre, or discipline. Sentences may be overly long or short with awkward construction. Documents may also use words incorrectly.
MECHANICS	Papers will feature correct or error-free presentation of ideas. At the weak end of the Satisfactory range, papers may contain some spelling, punctuation, or grammatical errors that remain unobtrusive so they do not muddy the paper's argument or points.	Papers contain so many mechanical or grammatical errors that they impede the reader's understanding or severely undermine the writer's credibility.

Policies and Procedures

Attendance

Attendance is required. The policy of the University Writing Program is that if students miss more than six periods during the term, they will fail the entire course. Double periods count as two absences.

The UWP exempts from this policy only those absences due to university-sponsored events, such as athletics and band, religious holidays, quarantine, illness, or serious family emergencies. Absences related to university-sponsored events must be discussed with the instructor prior to the date that will be missed. For absences due to quarantine or illness, your instructor may require a signed doctor's note.

Requirements for class attendance, make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this class are consistent with university policies that can be found at <https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx>

Please note: If students are absent, it is their responsibility to make themselves aware of all due dates. If absent due to a scheduled event, students are still responsible for turning assignments in on time.

Tardiness: If students enter class after roll has been taken, they are late, which disrupts the entire class. Two instances of tardiness count as one absence. This applies to both in-person and synchronous Zoom classes. When attending a Zoom class, make sure you join the class early enough to correct any technological issues you encounter. Make sure to mute your microphone upon entry.

Class Recording Policy

The State of Florida has passed a law regarding the recording of classes by students.

- A Student may record a class lecture for three specified purposes as outlined in House Bill 233/Section 1004.097, Florida Statutes:
 1. For the student's own personal educational use;
 2. In connection with a complaint to the University where the recording is made
 3. As evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding.
- Students may audio or video record a class lecture for a class in which the student is enrolled. Students do not need advance permission, or to provide notice, to record.
- A class lecture is defined as an educational presentation delivered by faculty (instructor of record) or guest lecturer, as part of a University of Florida course, intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject. Lecture is inclusive of faculty-led discussions that are integrated into the educational presentation.

- A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session.
- A recording of a class lecture may not be published without the consent of the lecturer.
 - Publish is defined as sharing, transmitting, circulating, distributing, or providing access to a Recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section.
 - A recording, or transcript of the recording, is considered to be published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper or leaflet.
- A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.

Classroom Demeanor

Please keep in mind that students come from diverse cultural, economic, and ethnic backgrounds. Some of the texts we will discuss and write may engage controversial topics and opinions. Diversified student backgrounds combined with provocative texts require that you demonstrate respect for ideas that may differ from your own. Disrespectful behavior will result in dismissal, and accordingly absence, from the class.

If attending class via Zoom, there are a few guidelines we expect you to follow.

- Avoid distractions during class time. Close unnecessary apps and put your phone away. Attend from an area with no distractions. (If circumstances require you to work from an area with distractions, let your instructor know. For example, if you have to share a room with family, let your teacher know that your mom might be walking in the background or your brother is doing his class at the dining room table at the same time.)
- Make sure that whatever is visible (your attire, the background) is reasonable for class. Would you wear it to class? Would you show that poster in class? Would you bring that pile of dirty clothes to class?
- Zoom requirements: During class, you are expected to be visible to the instructor and be able to communicate with the instructor by audio or writing in the chat box.
 - You will need a web cam and microphone for Zoom class. If you work in a noisy or distracting environment, we strongly recommend headphones with a microphone.

In-Class Work

Active participation is a crucial part of success in this class. Students will be expected to work in small groups and participate in group discussions, writing workshops, peer reviews, and other in-class activities. Be prepared for unannounced quizzes or activities on the readings or classroom discussion. In general, students are expected to contribute constructively to each class session.

Paper Maintenance Responsibilities

Students are responsible for maintaining copies of all work submitted in this course and retaining all returned, graded work until the semester is over. Should the need arise for a resubmission of papers or a review of graded papers, it is the student's responsibility to have and to make available this material.

Submission Requirements

All papers will be submitted as MS Word (.doc, .docx) documents to Canvas. Sometimes, pdfs will be accepted, too. Final drafts should be polished and presented in a professional manner. Because professional communication varies in document design, all papers will have specific formatting guidelines to follow. Please read these carefully and ask questions early to avoid losing points.

Papers and drafts are due online at the assigned day and time. Late papers will not be accepted. Failure of technology is not an excuse. If illness or injury prevents a student from turning in a paper on time, the student should consult with the writing coach to turn in the work as soon as is feasible given the situation.

ACADEMIC HONESTY and PLAGIARISM

As a University of Florida student, your performance is governed by the UF Student Honor Code, (<https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/advising/info/student-honor-code.aspx>). The Honor Code requires Florida students to neither give nor receive unauthorized aid in completing all assignments. Violations include cheating, plagiarism, bribery, and misrepresentation, all defined in detail at the above site.

Plagiarism is a serious violation of the Student Honor Code. The Honor Code prohibits and defines plagiarism as follows:

Plagiarism. A student shall not represent as the student's own work all or any portion of the work of another. Plagiarism includes but is not limited to:

- 1. Quoting oral or written materials including but not limited to those found on the internet, whether published or unpublished, without proper attribution.
- 2. Submitting a document or assignment which in whole or in part is identical or substantially identical to a document or assignment not authored by the student.

(University of Florida, Student Honor Code, 8, October, 2013)

The University Writing Program takes plagiarism very seriously, and treats instances of plagiarism as dishonesty and as a failure to comply with the scholarly requirements of this course. You commit plagiarism when you present the ideas or words of someone else as your own. Each student's work may be tested for its originality against a wide variety of databases by anti-plagiarism sites to which the University subscribes, and negative reports from such sites may constitute proof of plagiarism. Some (but not all!) examples of plagiarism are copying-and-pasting anything from the Internet without proper quotations and attributive tags, using work you have turned in to other classes without permission from the instructor, and insufficient paraphrasing.

If you commit academic dishonesty, you will receive a zero for the assignment, and the instructor will submit the incident to the Dean of Students Office as an Honor Code violation. Punishments can vary, but the instructor will recommend failing the course. (If you commit plagiarism in the workplace, at the very least you will be reprimanded. You could also be fired or even lose your career.)

Important tip: There should never be a time when you copy and paste something from the Internet and don't provide the exact location and citation information for the source.

All students are required to abide by the Academic Honesty Guidelines which have been accepted by the University. The academic community of students and faculty at the University of Florida strives to develop, sustain and protect an environment of honesty, trust and respect. Students are expected to pursue knowledge with integrity. UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states: "We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment."

The Honor Code specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obliged to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor in this class. Honor Code: <http://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honor-code/> (Links to an external site.)Links to an external site.

If a student plagiarizes all or any part of any assignment, I will award a failing grade on the assignment, and I will report you to the honor board at the Office of the Dean of Students. Once a student is reported to the honor board, he/she cannot drop the course. Your work will be tested for its "originality" against a wide variety of databases by anti-plagiarism guardian sites to which the university subscribes, and negative reports from such sites constitute PROOF of plagiarism. Other forms of academic dishonesty will also result in a failing grade on the assignment as a minimum penalty. Examples include cutting and pasting a BLOG entry or citing phony sources/quotations to include in your assignments. You are responsible for understanding the University's definitions of plagiarism and academic dishonesty, which include the following:

- Submitting all or part of someone else's work as if it is your own
- "Borrowing" all or portions of anything (books, song lyrics, poetry, movie scripts) without crediting the source
- "Borrowing" verbatim text without enclosing in quotation marks and citing source

As a general rule, anytime you cut and paste you are citing a source. If you do any cutting and pasting without giving credit to that source, you are committing plagiarism. For more information about academic honesty, including definitions and examples of plagiarism, see: Making "duplicate submissions" of assignments - that is, submitting work in one class that you also submit in another class (UNLESS you have permission of both instructors in advance and IN WRITING.) "Collaborating" or receiving substantive help in writing your assignment unless such collaboration is part of the given assignment also constitutes plagiarism. However, you may receive general advice from tutors or UF writing lab instructors and you may form study groups among your classmates to study for the exams.

For more information, see the Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution Web site: <https://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr> or call 352-392-1261 x207.

As a University of Florida student, your performance is governed by the UF Student Honor Code, (<https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/advising/info/student-honor-code.aspx>). The Honor Code requires Florida students to neither give nor receive unauthorized aid in completing all assignments. Violations include cheating, plagiarism, bribery, and misrepresentation, all defined in detail at the above site.

Course Evaluation

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/>. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via <https://ufl.bluera.com/ufl/>. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/>

NOTIFICATION LETTER FROM THE DEAN OF STUDENTS' OFFICE

Students who experience a family or personal emergency (death in the family, unplanned hospitalization, etc.) may contact the Dean of Students Office and request notification letters be sent to their professors. Students are required to provide faculty members with appropriate documentation to support their absence unless, due to the nature of the issue, the information is provided to and verified by the Dean of Students' Office.

The University of Florida complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act. Students requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Dean of Students Office. The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to the student who must then provide this documentation to the instructor when requesting accommodation.

Students in Distress

For guidance during distressing situations, please contact U Matter We Care or the Dean of Students Office. They can help students navigate resources and academic procedures for personal, medical, and academic issues.

Notes and Questions:

Class Schedule

Week 1 -- Course Introduction

Readings

- History of Evidence Based Medicine, Sur & Dahm (Indian Journal of Urology)
- Real World Evidence: what it is and what it can tell us, Sherman et al. (NEJM)

Activities/Assignments

- Update Canvas Bio (optional)
- Reading Med Prose Activity

Week 2 – Synthesis Series / Bullet Analyses

Readings -- none

Activities/Assignments

- Bullet Analyses 1, 2

Week 3 – Synthesis Series Paper

Readings -- none

Activities/Assignments

- BA 3
- Synthesis Paper

Week 4 – The Review Paper

Readings

- A Typology of Reviews, Grant & Booth (Health Information and Libraries Journal)

Activities/Assignments

- Reviews in your field of medicine
- Focus your review topic

Week 5 – Annotated Bibliography

Readings – none

Activities/Assignments

- Use library databases
- AB entry 1

Week 6 – Review Paper: Crafting POVs (Sept 26 – Sept 30)

Readings – none

Activities/Assignments

- AB entries 2-5

Week 7 -- Review Paper: The Body

Readings – none

Activities/Assignments

- Outline the review paper
- Draft Introduction
- Annotated Bibliography

Week 8 – Review Paper: Conclusions

Readings – none

Activities/Assignments

- Peer Review section/s of paper
- Review Paper

Week 9 – Prof Dev: Applying to Grad School

Readings

- Discipline-specific FAQs or manual on centralized application service

Activities/Assignments

- Personal Statement

Week 10 – Prof Dev: Applying to Internships/Jobs

Readings

- The Healthcare Student's Guide to Internships, Kaple & Kaple

Activities/Assignments

- Find internship
- Resume
- Cover Letter

FINAL PROJECT OPTION: TRANSFORMING THE LITERATURE

Week 11 – Transforming Literature Project

Readings

- Readability of Patient Education Materials from High-Impact Medical Journals: A 20-Year Analysis, Rooney et al. (Journal of Patient Experience)
- Patient and Public Involvement: Beyond the Expert Patient, Greenhalgh (BMJ)
- Doctors really want well-informed patients, Auerbach
- The Informed Patient, Norton

Activities/Assignments

- Suitably Put
- Which Trade Publication will you choose?

Week 12 – The Trade Lit

Readings – none

Activities/Assignments

- Trade Paper

Week 13 – Consumer health lit

Readings – none

Activities/Assignments

- Suitably Put: Deep Analysis

FINAL PROJECT OPTION: PUBLIC HEALTH CAMPAIGN PROJECT

Week 11 – Public Health Campaign Project

Readings

- Perception of the Effectiveness of Health-Related Campaigns among the Adult Population: An Analysis of Determinants, Duplaga (Int J Environ Res Public Health)
- The Two Faces of Fear: A History of Hard-Hitting Public Health Campaigns Against Tobacco and AIDS, Fairchild, et al. (Am J Public Health)
- Precision Public Health Campaign: Delivering Persuasive Messages to Relevant Segments Through Targeted Advertisements on Social Media, An et al. (JMIR Form Res)

Activities/Assignments

Week 14 – Consumer Health Lit

Readings – none

Activities/Assignments

- Peer review Consumer Version: Novice
- Prepping Poster (if participating)

Week 15 – Consumer Health Lit

Readings – none

Activities/Assignments

- Peer Review Consumer Version: Advanced
- Prepping Poster (if participating)

Week 16 -- Finishing Up

Readings – none

Activities/Assignments

- Consumer Health Information
- Poster Presentation (Dec 8, 6:00 – 9:00 p.m.; Optional)

- Meet your Team
- The Prospectus/Proposal

Week 12 – Constructing Surveys

Readings – none

Activities/Assignments

- Peer Review Survey
- Health Campaign Survey

Week 13 – Analyzing Results/The Brief Research Report

Readings – none

Activities/Assignments

- Analyzing Results
- Writing Methods and Results sections

Week 14 – The Brief Report / Poster Presentations

Readings – none

Activities/Assignments

- Writing Introductions and Conclusions
- Prepping Posters (if participating)

Week 15 – Consumer Health Lit (Nov 28 – Dec 2)

Readings

- Health Literacy Online -- Guide to creating web-based health education resources

Activities/Assignments

- Peer Review Consumer Health Lit
- Prepping Poster (if participating)

Week 16 -- Finishing Up

Readings – none

Activities/Assignments

- Brief Report
- Public Poster Presentation (Dec 8, 6:00 – 9:00 p.m.; Optional) or in-class poster presentation
