

ENC 3254: PROFESSIONAL WRITING IN THE DISCIPLINES || ONLINE

SUMMER 2024

Section: 01H0 (10854)

Instructor: Emily Bald

Section: 4C53 (10856)

Instructor: Jessica-Jean Stonecipher

Office Hours: TBA

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Professional communication is the practice of conveying technical information to various audiences with different goals and levels of expertise. In this class students learn how to research, organize, and present technical information in effectively written documents, work in collaboration with other professionals, and use various technologies to support their communication efforts.

ENC 3254 ONLINE is organized into projects, each with its own learning objectives which tie into the course objectives listed below. Our goal is to prepare you to meet expectations for professional literacy and workplace communication in YOUR field. This means you'll be working within your major, discipline, field, or profession all semester. Each writing project is designed around common communication scenarios which result in (or include) writing. This includes everyday acts of communication, such as email, memos, and letters, as well as more specialized documents such as technical descriptions, instructions, and reports. Remember: throughout class, you will work with topics and ideas that come from your own discipline.

GENERAL EDUCATION LEARNING OUTCOMES: (C) AND (WR)

Content

- Identify audiences critical to discipline-specific situations
- Relate document design decisions to audience and text
- Analyze discipline-specific literature across genres

Critical Thinking

- Select vocabulary appropriate to colleagues and clients
- Distinguish trade and academic literature
- Evaluate prose in terms of audience, genre, and purpose

Communication

- Write research-based prose for an academic audience
- Write persuasive prose appropriate to a work environment
- Write prose that communicates effectively to colleagues and clients

Composition Credit: Students must pass this course with a “C” or better to satisfy the CLAS requirement for Composition (C). To earn general education Composition credit, students will

- Demonstrate forms of effective writing (focusing on analyses, arguments, and proposals);

- Learn different writing styles, approaches, and formats and successfully adapt writing to different audiences, purposes, and contexts; effectively revise and edit their own writing and the writing of others;
- Organize complex arguments in writing, using thesis statements, claims, and evidence;
- Employ logic in arguments and analyze their own writing and the writing of others for errors in logic;
- Write clearly and concisely consistent with the conventions of standard written English;
- Use thesis sentences, claims, evidence, and logic in arguments.

University Writing Requirement: The University Writing Requirement (WR) ensures students both maintain their fluency in writing and use writing as a tool to facilitate learning. Course grades now have two components. To receive University Writing Requirement (WR) credit (E6), a student must earn a course grade of C or higher and assignments must meet minimum word requirements totaling at least 6000 words. Thus, to earn WR-E6 credit, students must complete all the Required Writing Assignments.

The instructor and coaches will evaluate and provide feedback on the student's written assignments with respect to content, organization and coherence, argument and support, style, clarity, grammar, punctuation, and mechanics. Conferring credit for the University Writing Requirement, this course requires that papers conform to the following assessment rubric. More specific rubrics and guidelines applicable to individual assignments may be delivered during the semester.

REQUIRED TEXT

Markel, M. & Selber S. (2021). Technical Communication (13th ed.). Boston, MA: Bedford/St. Martins. (e-book or hardcopy). ISBN:978-1-319-24500-9. (There are older versions available, but page numbers on Canvas will correspond with the 13th edition).

MAJOR ASSIGNMENTS

To achieve the goals of helping students to think and communicate like discipline practitioners, this class employs project-based learning. Each project culminates in at least one major writing assignment requiring discipline-specific original content. Within projects, we employ the “LEAP” model: Learn, Explore, Analyze/Activate, Perform/Publish.

- Learn – readings, course lectures, and other learning materials that explain the genre and purpose of the project
 - Watching video lectures earns points and annotation assignments encourage deeper understanding of class projects
- Explore – low stakes activities that help students identify and describe elements of the project
 - This work often takes place in Discussions
- Analyze/Activate – higher stakes activities in which students analyze, appraise, and critique authentic works
 - This work includes both discussions and writing activities
- Perform/Publish – content assignments for which students produce work relevant to their field
 - This work includes planning memos as well as major writing assignments

Continuous Learning Project (4 weeks with once-weekly entries)

For this semester-long project, students will practice a key professional skill set: continuous learning in your chosen work. Continuous learning is a profession-oriented subset of lifelong learning. In particular, ENC 3254 employs self-directed learning: obtaining a new skill or improving your knowledge and understanding of something does not have to be restricted to formal training or working with others. The CLP offers two strategies to choose from, the "Trade Lit Savvy" approach or the "Passion Project Professional" approach. Both begin with reading the trade literature in your field, where "reading" really means reading, listening, or watching. Students write one short report each week, from week 2 to week 5. Then, you'll use this information to share knowledge with the public on behalf of your field.

Job Application Packet (Cover Letter, Résumé – 1 week)

In this multi-part assignment, students will first identify an internship or job they are interested in and could reasonably apply for. Students will write a letter of application and a résumé for this particular job. Instructors may also include practice for oral communication, such as an elevator pitch or interview questions.

Industry Analysis Project (3 weeks)

White papers can be used within an organization for the purpose of informing peers as well as externally to educate clients or the public. Our version of a white paper will be an objective explanation of some practice in your field—its history, its current state, and a current detailed example of it. Technical language is usually defined within the context of the paper, with key terms getting longer explanation. There are four project options to choose from: Innovation Paper, Sustainability Report, Work Culture Report, Foundational Concepts Paper. This project includes 2 additional parts: an annotated bibliography and a short proposal.

Annotated Bibliography

To write the Industry Analysis Report, students will need at minimum of 6 high-quality sources. The Annotated Bibliography is the preparation of at least 6 sources for the paper.

Short Proposal

Research often leads to innovation. Given the work you did on the IA paper, what could improve or change in your field to lead to better outcomes? This short proposal takes as its starting point the final section of the IA paper, in which you speculated on the future of the topic.

Applying Knowledge Project (1 week)

Using all the sources and knowledge gained across the semester, students will prepare a short piece of public-facing content on behalf of your organization or discipline. This project practices transforming discipline-specific knowledge to a wider audience and using multimedia formats.

Continuous Learning Project (4 x 50 pts)	200 pts	1600 words
Job Application Documents	100 pts	500 words
Industry Analysis Paper	150 pts	1200 words
IA – Annotated Bibliography	60 pts	600 words
IA – Proposal	75 pts	1000 words
Knowledge Application Project	100 pts	500 words
Prep Memos (5 x 20 pts)	100 pts	600 words
Discussion Boards (6 x 25 pts)	150 pts	N/A
Course Orientation Quiz + Canvas Bio	15 pts	N/A
Project Video Quizzes (5 x 10)	50 pts	N/A
TOTAL	1000 pts	6000 words

⇒ ALL assignments with a word requirement MUST be turned in on time and fully complete to be eligible to earn the 6000-word requirement AND to pass the class.

GRADING

Grading for this course will be rigorous. Do not rely on the instructor for copy-editing, even on drafts. To receive a passing grade, each paper must reach the minimum assigned word count. The University Writing Program uses the UF recommended grading scale.

A	100 %	to 94.0%
A-	< 94.0 %	to 90.0%
B+	< 90.0 %	to 87.0%
B	< 87.0 %	to 84.0%
B-	< 84.0 %	to 80.0%
C+	< 80.0 %	to 77.0%
C	< 77.0 %	to 74.0%
C-	< 74.0 %	to 70.0%
D+	< 70.0 %	to 67.0%
D	< 67.0 %	to 64.0%
D-	< 64.0 %	to 60.0%
F	< 60.0 %	to 0.0%

It is UWP Policy NOT to round grades up or down. An 89.9 is a B+.

At the discretion of the instructor, minor assignments (homework and class activities) may be dropped from or added to the schedule. If assignments are dropped, the final grade will be calculated as a percentage of the remaining points.

SUBMITTING ASSIGNMENTS & DUE DATES

All work is due in Canvas at the assigned date and time in the correct place and in the correct file format (most work must be submitted as a Microsoft Word file: .docx or .doc).

For final MWA papers, Prep Memos, and DBs turned in within 24 hours past due date/time, there is no penalty on the first offense. Subsequent offenses and work submitted past due date/time will receive a zero.

Peer review drafts not submitted on time will miss the automatic partnering done at the due date/time and will receive a zero for the activity. Likewise, you will not get credit for incomplete peer reviews.

Failure of technology is not an excuse. Make sure you read and meet the UF Student Computing requirement (<https://it.ufl.edu/policies/student-computing-requirements/>).

If illness or injury prevents a student from turning in a paper on time, the student should consult with the instructor to turn in the work as soon as is feasible given the situation.

UF offers Microsoft Office 365 to all students and faculty through GatorCloud (<https://it.ufl.edu/services/gatorcloud-microsoft-office-online>). (Another option for word processing software is Google Docs. Papers must be saved as Word documents before being submitted.)

ASSESSMENT RUBRIC

The rubric below is intended as a general guide to how work is graded. “Satisfactory” does NOT mean an “A” grade – “Satisfactory” represents a range of acceptable work from “C” to “A”.

	SATISFACTORY (Y)	UNSATISFACTORY (N)
CONTENT	Papers exhibit evidence of ideas that respond to the topic with complexity, critically evaluating and synthesizing sources, and provide an adequate discussion with basic understanding of sources.	Papers either include a central idea(s) that is unclear or off- topic or provide only minimal or inadequate discussion of ideas. Papers may also lack sufficient or appropriate sources.
ORGANIZATION AND COHERENCE	Documents and paragraphs exhibit identifiable structure for topics, including a clear thesis statement and topic sentences.	Documents and paragraphs lack clearly identifiable organization, may lack any coherent sense of logic in associating and organizing ideas, and may also lack transitions and coherence to guide the reader.
ARGUMENT AND SUPPORT	Documents use persuasive and confident presentation of ideas, strongly supported with evidence. At the weak end of the satisfactory range, documents may provide only generalized discussion of ideas or may provide adequate discussion but rely on weak support for arguments.	Documents make only weak generalizations, providing little or no support, as in summaries or narratives that fail to provide critical analysis.
STYLE	Documents use a writing style with word choice appropriate to the context, genre, and discipline. Sentences should display complexity and logical structure.	Documents rely on word usage that is inappropriate for the context, genre, or discipline. Sentences may be overly long or short with awkward construction. Documents may also use words incorrectly.
MECHANICS	Papers will feature correct or error-free presentation of ideas. At the weak end of the satisfactory range, papers may contain a few spelling, punctuation, or grammatical errors that remain unobtrusive and do not obscure the paper’s argument or points.	Papers contain so many mechanical or grammatical errors that they impede the reader’s understanding or severely undermine the writer’s credibility.

ACADEMIC HONESTY

As a University of Florida student, your performance is governed by the UF Student Honor Code, (<https://sccr.dso.ufl.edu/policies/student-honor-code-student-conduct-code/>). University of Florida students are responsible for reading, understanding, and abiding by the entire Student Honor Code.

Plagiarism is a serious violation of the Student Honor Code. The Honor Code defines it as follows:

Plagiarism. A Student must not represent as the Student’s own work all or any portion of the work of another. Plagiarism includes but is not limited to:

1. Stealing, misquoting, insufficiently paraphrasing, or patch-writing.
2. Self-plagiarism, which is the reuse of the student’s own submitted work, or the simultaneous submission of the Student’s own work, without the full and clear acknowledgment and permission of the Faculty to whom it is submitted.

3. Submitting materials from any source without proper attribution.
4. Submitting a document, assignment, or material that, in whole or in part, is identical or substantially identical to a document or assignment the student did not author.

Important Tip: You should never copy and paste something from the Internet without providing the exact location from which it came.

The University Writing Program takes plagiarism very seriously and treats instances of plagiarism as dishonesty and as a failure to comply with the scholarly requirements of this course. You commit plagiarism when you present the ideas or words of someone else as your own. Each student's work may be tested for its originality against a wide variety of databases by anti-plagiarism sites to which the University subscribes, and negative reports from such sites may constitute proof of plagiarism.

⇒ Some (but not all!) examples of plagiarism are copying-and-pasting anything from the Internet without proper quotations and attribution, using work you have turned in to other classes without permission from the instructor, and insufficient paraphrasing.

If you commit academic dishonesty, the instructor will submit the incident to the Dean of Students Office as an Honor Code violation. Punishments can vary, but the instructor will recommend failing the course. (If you commit plagiarism in the workplace, at the very least you will be reprimanded. You could also be fired or even lose your career.)

If you are unsure if what you are doing is considered academic dishonesty, ask your instructor before turning it in.

CONFERENCES AND WRITING STUDIO

Students are encouraged to seek assistance from the Lead Instructor or Writing Coach if there are questions about progress in the course, work underway, or any other course-related concerns. The Writing Studio also offers one-on-one assistance on writing projects and is available to students of all levels. The Writing Studio's website includes instructional videos for some of the most common questions about writing.

Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/>. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via <https://ufl.bluera.com/ufl/>. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/>.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

The University of Florida complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act. Students requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Dean of Students Office.
