Course Description

What can great works of poetry, prose, and music teach us about ourselves: who we are, where we've come from, and where we're going? Great works of art push boundaries. They are not only of their time, but continue to speak through the years. Throughout history, great composers of music have chosen the work of great poets and writers to inspire them and to give meaning to the music they have created. In this course students will examine the world through the lens of poetry, prose, and music and use what they learn to help answer questions about how to think about the world; how they want to fit into the world; and how they can, and should, change it.

Students in this course will examine texts that composers set to music, identify elements in the text that influence the ways those texts are set to music, explore what the poet and composer were trying to express, and evaluate whether the musical settings of text are successful. Students will learn how to interpret the meaning of both the text and music, what poets and composers were attempting to convey through their art, and what that means for us as the audience for that art. Through this process, students must necessarily learn rudimentary poetic and musical active listening techniques. However, students will not simply use these skills to understand a few select works of poetry or music. Instead, students will use the skills to consider what the world was like in a particular time and place so they can answer questions like, "how is my world different?", "How is it the same?", "What has changed?", and "What should change?"

Description of Graded Work & Grading Rubrics

Assignment	Description	Points
Class Discussion Posts	Each week you will need to post about one thing you learned or something that was particularly meaningful to you from the class material. Additionally you must reply to two of your classmates' posts.	300 (20 each x 15)
Song Projects	2 Group presentations as assigned by instructor. You receive a group and an individual grade for each.	200 ([50 group +50 individual] x 2 projects)
Experiential Learning Experience Paper	Either a written reflection of 500-750 words.	200
Analytical Essay	A final essay on the either the individual impact of piece or a comparative analysis of two settings of the same text in 1,000-1,250 words.	300

Attendance, Participation, and Assignments

Attendance is essential for successful participation in this course. You are responsible for all material discussed in class. If you are absent, it will be your responsibility to acquire the information missed. Participation will be graded through discussion posts on canvas. Each week you will have an assignment worth twenty points. These may be self-reflections, small group projects, or other activities drawn from the material covered that week and our work together in class. For each of these assignments you will need to post your submission on the canvas discussion board for that week and respond to two of your classmates' posts as well. For small group assignments only one member will need to post the groups work (with all of the members' names), but each individual student will still need to make two responses on the canvas discussion board.

Assignment	Points
Reflection/Other Assignment	10
Response 1	5
Response 2	5
Total	20
Total for Semester (15 weeks)	300

Rubric	Assignment	Responses

Attendance will be taken at every class meeting. Students will be allowed two unexcused absences. Each unexcused absence after those will incur a 25-point deduction from the final grade in the class. All unexcused late work will receive a 10% per day penalty. Students must have an excused absence to make up in-class examinations. (See Section VI below)

Song Projects

The two song projects will be group presentations. The first will happen during the course of the semester on a piece chosen by your group and approved by your instructor. The second will take place after Thanksgiving Break, topics will be chosen by the class. Possible topics may include: architecture, gender, war, background mood music (elevators, stores, and restaurants), science in music and poetry, etc. You will receive an individual and a group grade. Your instructor will give an example presentation on September 2. Each presentation should contain the following:

Historical Context	Include the birth & death dates for the composer & poet, the dates of writing/composition, major life or work events that may have influenced the creation of the work or help us better understand what they were trying to say.
Poetic Analysis	Discuss the structure and content of the poem. This may include the meter, rhyme scheme, metaphors or imagery, as well as the meaning.
Musical Analysis	What does the composer do to interpret the poem? What are elements that we can hear with active listening? How does the composer use repetition and variation in the structure of the piece and what does that say about the poem.
Performance	You may choose an audio recording, a music video, a live concert recording, or even to perform the pieces in class. Whatever you chose tell us what lead you to your choices of format and performers.
Hand out/ Listening Guide	The handout can be in print or digital format. It should contain important information, visual aids, definitions, etc. Part of the handout should include a listening guide that will help the class better identify the elements you discuss as the piece is performed.

Experiential Learning Component

Option 1: Guest Speakers

We will have several guest speakers over the course of the semester. For this option write a summary of the speaker's topic, include background information on the speaker themselves (name, job, area of expertise, etc). Then discuss how this topic impacted you and why.

Option 2: Art in the Environment

Visit a retail store of some kind (e.g. department store, grocery store, pharmacy, etc.) and document the music the store plays in the background. Include the poetry, the poet, the composer, and the titles of the pieces you hear as well as the original context of the piece. Next describe how that piece impacted your visit. For example, did it change your mood? Did it alter your actions (energizing you to move through the aisles, calming you to stay longer or be still, sharpening your focus as you consider the merchandise, etc.)?

Length: 500 - 750 words
Points: 200

Analytical Essay

Length: 1,000 - 1,250 words
Points: 300

Option 1: Individual Impact

This topic is similar to the group presentations but focuses on your individual experience. Choose a piece of music that is meaningful to you. Describe the historical context of the music and poetry as well as any pertinent information about the composer and poet. Next discuss your history with the piece. When did you first hear it? Who introduced this piece into your life and what were the circumstances? Finally, interpretation of the piece, describe why it is meaningful to you, and discuss the impact this piece had (or is still having) for you. For example: Does it touch on a shared life experience between you and the composer or poet? Does it express a feeling or experience you've had in your life? Does it help you through a difficult time or are there good memories that come rushing back to you when you hear it?

Option 2: Comparative Setting

Compare two different settings of the same text, or a cover of another artist's work (e. g. "I will always love you" by Dolly Parton and the cover by Whitney Houston). If you are choosing the latter option, you must include the original song in your comparison. Discuss form and structure of the poetry and the music. How do the different musical settings change the meaning the words? How the settings differ in the impact on you and what causes that difference?

Writing Assessment Rubric and Statements

	SATISFACTORY (Y)	UNSATISFACTORY (N)	Points (Exp. Learning)	Points (Essay)
CONTENT	Papers exhibit at least some evidence of ideas that respond to the topic with complexity, critically evaluating and synthesizing sources, and provide at least an adequate discussion with basic understanding of sources.	Papers either include a central idea(s) that is unclear or off-topic or provide only minimal or inadequate discussion of ideas. Papers may also lack sufficient or appropriate sources.	40	60
ORGANIZATION AND COHERENCE	Documents and paragraphs exhibit at least some identifiable structure for topics, including a clear thesis statement but may require readers to work to follow progression of ideas.	Documents and paragraphs lack clearly identifiable organization, may lack any coherent sense of logic in associating and organizing ideas, and may also lack transitions and coherence to guide the reader.	40	60
ARGUMENT AND SUPPORT	Documents use persuasive and confident presentation of ideas, strongly supported with evidence. At the weak end of the Satisfactory range, documents may provide only generalized discussion of ideas or may provide adequate discussion but rely on weak support for arguments.	Documents make only weak generalizations, providing little or no support, as in summaries or narratives that fail to provide critical analysis.	40	60
STYLE	Documents use a writing style with word choice appropriate to the context, genre, and discipline. Sentences should display complexity and logical sentence structure. At a minimum, documents will display a less precise use of vocabulary and an uneven use of sentence structure or a writing style that occasionally veers away from word choice or tone appropriate to the context, genre, and discipline.	Documents rely on word usage that is inappropriate for the context, genre, or discipline. Sentences may be overly long or short with awkward construction. Documents may also use words incorrectly.	40	60
MECHANICS	Papers will feature correct or error-free presentation of ideas. At the weak end of the Satisfactory range, papers may contain some spelling, punctuation, or grammatical errors that remain unobtrusive so they do not muddy the paper's argument or points.	Papers contain so many mechanical or grammatical errors that they impede the reader's understanding or severely undermine the writer's credibility.	40	60

V. Quest Learning Experiences

1. Details of Experiential Learning Component

Students have 2 options for fulfilling the experiential learning component (described above under graded work). They will write a short paper of 500 - 750 words summarizing the presentation of guest speaker and the personal impact of that material or they will visit a retail location off-campus and discuss the impact of the music and poetry played in the background.

2. Details of Self-Reflection Component

Self-Reflection is included in the weekly discussion board posts (described above under graded work). Students will reflect on particularly meaningful topics and the personal impact of those topics. Self-Reflection is also included as a part of the experiential learning component.

VI. Required Policies

Attendance Policy

Attendance will be taken at every class meeting. Students will be allowed two unexcused absences. Each unexcused absence after those will incur a 25-point deduction from the final grade in the class.

All unexcused late work will receive a 10% per day penalty. Students must have an excused absence to make up in-class examinations.

Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies that can be found at: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx>

Students Requiring Accommodation

Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the disability Resource Center by visiting <https://disability.ufl.edu/students/get-started/>. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.

UF Evaluations Process

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/>. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via <https://ufl.bluera.com/ufl/>. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/>.

In-Class Recordings

Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor.

A “class lecture” is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To “publish” means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper,
